

Why do we Americans pay the world's highest health care costs, yet still have such overall poor coverage?

How can we make a change?

May 3rd, 2018

7:00PM

First Friends Quaker Meeting
3030 Kessler Boulevard East Drive

Why do we Americans pay the world's highest health care costs that leaves many Americans vulnerable? An entrepreneurial businessman explores the high cost of coverage for his employees.

Join us for a screening of the documentary film Fix It: Healthcare at the Tipping Point, and a discussion to follow. Our discussion will be led by Rob Stone, M.D., a palliative care physician and director of Hoosiers for a Commonsense Health Plan.

For more information, contact First Friends' office at office@indyfriends.org or 317-255-2485

Co-sponsors: Indianapolis First Friends, Hoosiers for a Commonsense Health Plan, People of Faith for Access to Medicines

