

Indiana's Healthcare Crisis is not Going Away....

- Indiana ranks 45th in the US in infant mortality.
- We rank 41st in overall health.
- 800,000 Hoosiers have no health insurance, 15% of us.
- Over 900 people are predicted to die this year in the state because they have no insurance.
- 62% of personal bankruptcies are driven by medical expenses, 28,000 in Indiana every year.
- All our neighboring states - Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, and Michigan – have expanded Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act and are seeing the number of uninsured drop, but not here.
- Medicaid expansion may happen in Indiana in 2015, but many questions remain.
- Even after Medicaid expansion is complete, there will still be at least 400,000 uninsured, and there is no current plan for how to expand coverage to them.
- Indiana has lost over 120,000 manufacturing jobs and with them better quality health insurance coverage. Many service industry jobs offer no health insurance at all.
- Everyone deserves healthcare. Healthcare reform is not done. We should expand Medicare to cover all Hoosiers, all Americans. Everybody in, and nobody out.

References:

Kaiser Family Foundation: kff.org/statedata/

Health Affairs Blog: healthaffairs.org/blog/2014/01/30/opting-out-of-medicaid-expansion-the-health-and-financial-impacts/

Physicians for a National Health Program:
pnhp.org/sites/default/files/docs/2011/State-by-state-personal-medical-bankruptcies-2011.pdf

Bureau of Labor Statistics: bls.gov

